system. There will be an article for this at March Town Meeting.

6. Discussed a parking issue with winter road maintenance. Some local residents are parking on the side of the road, which is causing an issue with proper snow removal and sanding after or during a storm. The hope is that residents will comply and park elsewhere when snow is expected. If this continues to be a problem, the town could instate parking bans which would be advertised on radio and television.

7. Selectmen signed and returned papers authorizing acceptance of the 2015 town audit draft.

8. Fire Chief Church reports that Mill Pond continues to fill up with mud-weeds. This could cause a problem with the pumps if the town has a fire as the Mill Pond has been a major source of water for the Fire Department. The Chief Church is looking for grants to help with cleaning out the pond.

NOTES FROM SELECTMEN

ATTENTION

A Citizens' Petition has been submitted proposing changes to the Building Ordinance. The Ordinance Review Committee has also submitted proposals for changes to the Building Ordinance, Shoreland Zoning Ordinance, and Sub-Division Ordinance. In other years, these proposals would have been included in the Town Meeting Warrant, to be discussed and voted on at Town Meeting (March 11th). However, it has been requested to put the Citizens' Petition proposal on a secret ballot to be voted on when we have the election for town officials (March 10th). In light of this request, selectmen have voted to put all the proposals for Ordinance change on the secret ballot.

There will be a Public Hearing on February 16th at 7:00 PM at the community Building to discuss the proposed changes.

All proposals will be posted on the town website viennamaine.org and copies will be available at the town house and post office. (Absentee ballots are available)

It was noted that the Ordinance Review Committee has invited the Planning Board to attend its November 17 meeting to discuss setback requirements in various ordinances.

ORDINANCE REVIEW COMMITTEE REPORT - DECEMBER-JANUARY

December 15, 2016

The Ordinance Review Committee met Thursday, December 15th at the Town House at 6:30 pm. Jim Anderberg, Marianne Archard and Susan Burns attended.

Committee members discussed the draft amendments to the road setback requirements following the work session with the Planning Board in November. The November meeting resulted in a compromise, proposing a setback of a consistent 50-foot distance from public roads and maintaining a 40-foot distance from private roads in the draft amendments to road setback requirements in the Building Ordinance, Shoreland Zoning Ordinance and Subdivision Regulations. The November meeting also discussed reducing the building permit fees for so-called hoop and shed-in-a-box structures. Susan agreed to revise the draft amendments for the Committee's January 2017 meeting.

Committee members also discussed adding the term 'mobile home parks' to the list of uses/types of residences covered by the Subdivision Regulations. The proposed changes would include applicable definitions of terms and incorporate appropriate references to Maine State statutes regarding municipal regulation of mobile home parks. Susan agreed to draft the proposed subdivision amendments for the January 2017 meeting.

The meeting adjourned at 7:20 pm.

January 19, 2017

The Ordinance Review Committee met Thursday,

January 19th at the Town House at 6:30 pm. Marianne Archard and Susan Burns attended.

The first discussion item covered review of the proposed ordinance amendments on road setbacks and mobile home park subdivisions. Marianne agreed to make the changes necessary for the February public hearing.

The second discussion item concerned the public hearing date, time and location, set for the Ordinance Review Committee's regular meeting, February 16th at 7 pm in the Town House.

The discussion then covered the Committee's report for the Vienna 2016 Town Report and public notice for the February public hearing. Susan agreed to draft the Committee's annual report and ordinance warrant articles and the public hearing notice. Marianne agreed to post the public hearing notices with the proposed amendments at the Town House and Post Office and to send them to Jim Anderberg to post on the Town's website.

The meeting adjourned at 7:10 pm.

FROM THE HEALTH OFFICER - 2016

Neighbors Driving Neighbors: trying to keep the elderly in their home towns

Dan Onion, MD, MPH
 Mt. Vernon/Vienna Health Officer
 293-2076; dkonion@gmail.com
 December, 2016

Maine has one of the oldest populations in the US because the young often move away to get work and our birthrate is very low as a result. Growing old “in place,” in other words in your own town and house, is preferable for most seniors to moving to their children’s homes elsewhere or to an institution like a retirement center. The most common and often the first disability which interferes with that preference is the ability to drive. If a senior can’t drive and doesn’t live with someone who can, then they can’t get to medical care, grocery and other stores, haircuts, libraries, entertainment, and social interaction. So transportation systems are crucial to keeping the elderly in their own homes and towns.

Through Neighbors Driving Neighbors (NDN), rides are arranged for town residents, who can’t themselves drive, to take them to adjacent destination cities (Augusta, Waterville, Livermore Falls, and Farmington) where they can do errands as well as connect to public transportation systems to go elsewhere in Maine and New England.

Neighbors Driving Neighbors started a year ago through the efforts of local residents from Fayette, Mt. Vernon, Vienna, Rome, and Belgrade. They celebrated their first year of operations last month. In that year, 27 drivers from all those towns have transported nearly 50 people who needed rides, on 300 trips, half round trips both out and back; and those drivers spent 500 hours and drove over 10,000 miles doing it. The volunteer drivers donate their time, gas, and cars to transport shut-ins to medical appointments, shopping, and social events. The program is coordinated by Irene Goff of Vienna, and organized by a 12-person board of directors, which has at least one representative from each of the 5 towns. The modest costs, about $10,000/year for the coordinator’s time, insurance, and vetting of the drivers, have been raised from grants from the Bingham Program and the Betterment Fund as well as generous donations from businesses and individuals, including those who ride with the service. Donation support looks like it should be sufficient to support the program’s continuation for the foreseeable future.

Many towns in Maine are looking to develop similar programs. We modeled ours after similar ones in Ellsworth and Mount Desert Island. Some adjacent towns may want to join us in the future or simply model theirs after ours. NDN urges interested towns to study the choices for a year before deciding which direction they wish to go. The NDN board is hesitant for our program to grow to too many towns, since, as the name implies, transporting our neighbors appeals greatly to drivers and probably has been crucial to success this first year.

Mt Vernon's own Community Partnership Corporation was instrumental in NDN's development. It was able to use its non-profit status to help us get planning grants and sponsor NDN, until NDN became a non-profit itself, and thus able to solicit tax-deductible donations as well as receive startup grants. Mt. Vernon is well represented on the NDN board by Pat Rawson, Jo Tibby, Sandy Wright, Tim Pike, and Eunice Reneyske.

NDN is hoping to gradually expand its services to more riders in our 5 towns and thus needs to recruit more drivers as well. It also hopes to encourage more social interactions for riders by doing joint shopping and/or movie trips as well as trips to places like the Muskie and Cohen senior centers. And it hopes to measure somehow an expected improvement in the ability of our towns' seniors to "age in place", most likely by collecting anecdotes of the difference it makes. NDN welcomes your help as a volunteer driver, as a rider, and/or as a donor (call 860-0677, email neighborsdrivingneighbors@gmail.org or visit the website: neighborsdrivingneighbors.org).

As town health officer, I have seen my involvement in making a more elderly friendly community this way as a gratifying part of my job.

DR. SHAW LIBRARY NEWS - FEBRUARY 2017

“Without access to the public library as a child, my world would have been smaller, and infinitely less rich. All those riches, freely available, to everyone and anyone with a library card. All children should be so lucky.” Lesley Bryce, from Ali Smith’s Public Library and Other Stories

We’ve gotten so many stellar children’s books in recent months. For a bit of humor, check out Penguin Problems by John Jory, and also Mo Willems’ Nanette’s Baguette (any of Willems’ books are humorous and full of ridiculous energy). An enchanting juvenile novel by Kelly R. Barnhill, the Girl Who Drank the Moon, just won the 2017 Newberry award. It’s a great read. We also have two of the books who were on the 2017 honor list for Newberry: A. Gidwitz’s Inquisitor’s Tale (juvenile fiction, and a physically beautiful book), and Maine’s own Ashley Bryan’s newest title, Freedom Over Me, with his usual gorgeous illustrations.

You can find some cool PBS videos on our amazing universe and how science helps us understand and connect to it, on their “It’s Okay to be Smart” series: www.pbs.org/show/its-okay-be-smart

I’ve been visiting Maria Popova’s “inventory of the meaningful life” – quiet reflections on writings from various authors and philosophers – at her website called Brain Pickings: www.brainpickings.org

We have pamphlets for Choice Magazine Listening, a service that includes audio recordings of various magazine writings. If you are eligible because of various disabilities, you will receive 12 hours of audio/month, plus a talking book player. You can come grab a pamphlet at the library, or you can contact them at www.choicemagazinelisting.org or call them toll free at 1-888-724-6423. Don’t forget you can also contact Maine State Library regarding their resources for blind and handicapped at: www.maine.gov/msl/outreach/lbph/index.shtml

Bob Grenier, Mt. Vernon’s Cemetery Sexton (otherwise known as “that graveyard guy”), does a great deal of research, looking through and organizing old burial records. He has compiled it into a binder of records ordered by cemetery, and always makes sure we have a copy of his latest updates here at the library. We keep the binder with our local history collection. You may have noticed, in the past year or so, that Bob has also placed new signs at each of the town graveyards – they look great and are easy to see. Thanks so much, Bob!

We haven’t been accepting too many book donations this year, due to limited space, but somehow we’ve still accumulated quite a collection of both fiction and nonfiction to resell. We also have some of Dr. and Mrs. Shaw’s personal library for sale for $1/book (we’ve kept some here at the library, too). If you do bring book donations to us, please remember our usual limitations regarding what we cannot accept: worn books with cracked spines or ripped pages; anything that smells musty/moldy; nonfiction series like Time-Life or encyclopedias; or nonfiction more than a few years old. Any of those items should go to the transfer station.

We are hoping some of you will donate some garden seed to our exchange – soon people will want to start their seedlings! Whether you save seed from your own garden, or buy packets and are willing to get a few extras for us, we'll be glad to share what you bring. What works best is small envelopes of heirloom, organic, or non-GMO seeds so gardeners don't have to worry about patent issues. We hear we'll have parsnip seed soon, thanks to Rhonda. When you come in to add to the exchange or take a few items home, you can spend time browsing our extensive gardening book collection for possible inspiration!

Our wonderful library volunteers were recognized and applauded at the Spirit of America Award Ceremony in Augusta in December, along with other recipients in 25 towns in Kennebec County who also made significant contributions to their communities. Volunteer hours quadruple the regular staff hours here, allowing for the library to offer so much more to our towns. Special recognition goes to Carol Fuller, Betsy Corning, Pat Rawson, and Diane Lee for their weekly ongoing commitment and dedication to the daily operations of the library.

I just finished Kathleen Dean Moore's Piano Tide, some more small town fiction, set in Alaska this time. What are you reading as the light slowly returns to us?

-Mary Ann Libby

MILL STREAM GRANGE REPORT 2016

Mill Stream Grange No. 574 holds its meetings on the 1st and 3rd Fridays of each month. Our potluck suppers begin at 6pm and the program-meetings start at 7pm. Each program is hosted by individual Grange members. During the past year we have had some excellent programs (which are always opened to the public).

We have awarded a $500 scholarship to a Mt. Blue senior (again), as always we have supported the Mt. Vernon Food Pantry at Christmas and throughout the year. We have an annual Plant & Bake sale in May which provides many people a start for their summer gardens, and delicious dinners/desserts.

In Dec. Santa came to visit for the local children and young at heart.. this year one of our Grangers (Murray Campbell) brought along his train set which thrilled many children and adults alike.

All who are interested in joining Grange are invited to come, visit, sit in on a meeting, to see if it's something in which they'd be interested. Membership is open to all regardless of age, sex, race, religion or political persuasion. If interested, approach any Granger member for an application. Grange represents our agricultural heritage and its rituals are more beautiful and meaningful the longer you take part. We have also become very involved in promoting and being involved in many community service programs.

If you're new in town.. it's a great way to become a part of the town and to get to know your neighbors (FYI - its not just for those in Vienna; its also for anyone who wants to come).

30 MILE RIVER WATERSHED ASSOCIATION NEWS

News from the 30 Mile River Watershed Association

2016 a Success - Setting our sights on 2017

With the help of more than 250 lake lovers, we were able to raise $58,633 for our 2016 Annual Giving Campaign. That is 12% more than in 2015 and 98% of our goal—an A+!

Our Annual Fund is essential to keeping all our watershed protection programs running. Without it, we could not provide Courtesy Boat Inspections, Youth Conservation Corps projects, water quality monitoring, Invasive Plant Patrol support, and watershed education in schools and the community.

As we begin a new Annual Giving Campaign for 2017, we must raise even more to continue the programs that protect our watershed. We hope you will be part of this year's coming success. We are so grateful for everyone's help in sustaining this work, and we look forward to continuing our growth as a conservation leader in Central Maine.
